DESCRIPTION

A rectangular, Mission Revival style brick church with a Basilican plan. The symmetrical front facade features the concrete-capped, curvilinear gable and a small belfry with a convex roof. An entry portico is suggested by a shallow clay tile roof over deeply recessed triple entrance doors with fanlights; their brick arches are supported by Tuscan columns. Other decorative features are the Spanish quatrefoil rose window, cartouches, and round headed windows.

SIGNIFICANCE

Late example of relatively scarce extant Mission Revival buildings in San Angelo. The Catholic church has been active in the area since 1870s. Growth in the membership, particularly in the Hispanic community led to the construction of this building in the "south barrios". The church remains an active place of worship as well as a focal point in the social and cultural life of the Hispanic community. It was the site of fiestas and neighborhood meetings, as well as served a relief function during the flood of 1936.
