STYLE: Classical Revival

DESCRIPTION

Very large, two-story, buff brick, bell-hipped, Classical Revival residence. On a corner lot, the two street facades are dominated by full-height entry porticos which are supported with clusters of colossal Ionic columns bearing on large brick pedestals. Both entries feature elaborate detailing with oval glass doors, stained glass sidelights and transoms, surmounted by 2nd-floor cantilevered balconies with similarly treated doorways, sidelights and transoms. Each portico has a bell-hipped dormer and a stick-style balustrade at roofline. 1st-floor windows use a single large light underneath a stained glass transom. Upper level windows are 1/1, with upper sash all or partially stained glass.

SIGNIFICANCE

One of the best examples of the style city wide, it features elaborate architectural and decorative detailing. Property was owned by L.O. and M.E. Nimitz and later H.C. Wylie, a hardware merchant. About 1916, it was acquired by C.A. Broome, a prominent insurance agent and real estate dealer. It stayed in the Broome family until 1972. Well maintained, it is now used as an architect's office.
